EAST WOODS FALL BOOK FAIR

BOOK COVER CONTEST 2013

It's time for students to get creative for the annual Book Cover Contest. Interested students in Kindergarten-Eighth Grade should design a cover based on a book of their choice. We will supply the poster board, and students will supply their imagination!

Important: All entries should be done independently by the students. The cover should be original art based on an actual book but should not be a copy of the book's actual cover.

* Here are some helpful hints in creating your book cover:

Do a rough draft of your design on paper other than your poster board.

Designs should be bright, colorful, and eye-catching. You may use a variety of materials including crayons, markers, paints, or collage materials, but please do not use food.

The author's name and the title of the book must be on the front of the poster. Student's name and grade are printed clearly on the back of the poster.

Contest Begins: Friday, October 4th
Deadline: Monday morning, October 21st

Please bring your entry to the Library. Judging by faculty and staff members will take place on Monday afternoon, October 21st.

Winners for each grade will be announced, and students will receive gift certificates to use at
